1. I think the first issue is team work and getting an agenda with board working together and keeping membership involved and informed. I have actually talked to members that haven't paid their dues that are not feeling comfortable with some issues. I would like to work on letters, phone calls, talking with our membership and developing a positive reinforcement.
2. Getting our standing committee's and getting them filled with people who said they would volunteer to help and allowing them to do that by communication and getting them involved.
3. Realistically different times of the year I've worked 15-20 hours a week prior to a big event such as sale, National Show, working on trophy's and ribbons and World Show there was more hours than you would have available possibly 25 hours a week. Then there would be times of year you wouldn't need to work very many, maybe 2-3. Probably correct answer to this question if your not willing to commit to being on BOD and have time to do job correctly it would be better if you didn't run.
4. I have been on BOD of CBUSA for 12 years, that gave me the opportunity to have some continuity with new board members coming on. With the three board members that are leaving this year, I feel and the reason I am running and with not having Secretary that has not been involved with association for years, experience is very important. I have chaired several Committees and served on others, I have helped with all three World Shows. I just completed a term as chairman of our church that has 1700 members, two Campus's, its a 2 mill budget and was also part of a program that we are raising 2 million for a building project.
5. Feel like my answers above have pretty much answered this question.
